Putt-putt putz

JOEL Selwood taught Tom Hawkins and Simon Hogan a thing or two last weekend at putt-putt golf. "Just giving Tom and Simon a free lesson at putt putt! Thank me later fellas," he tweeted, adding photos of the boys on the day to the comment.

Verbal vibe for Sketchy

GEELONG skit comedy group Sketchy has been spotted on the Comedy Channel recently after its video Verbal Diarrhoea gained popularity on youtube. The group uses all its own equipment and writes its own songs. Members include Kiam Linford, pictured, Zac Linford, Robert Barry, Robert Ditcham, Michael McCallum and Matt Cox.

Cats caught napping

JOEL Selwood and Harry Taylor were stitched up by City of Greater Geelong councillor Andy Richards, pictured, at Banjo's bakery. "How about an autograph?" the councillor asked before producing a pen and paper and asking the boys who they wanted it made it out to.

SOUNDS LIKE FUN: Keeley Troop gives the thumbs-up to her radio idol, Kate Langbroek, on yesterday's Hughesy & Kate show.

Keeley making (radio) waves

SHE may be only 10 but she's a radio star in the making.

Torquay's Keeley Troop had her 15 minutes of fame yesterday, taking over Nova FM in drive-time. She was the winner of a competition to find a junior version of Kate Langbroek, one of the hosts of the Hughesy & Kate show.

Keeley chatted with Junior Hughesy about Justin Bieber and Paul Chapman before receiving an entertainment package worth $2500.

Keeley shone in the role and loved meeting Kate.

"She is so pretty and I really like her," she said. "I think we are very similar, because we have the same hair and personalities."

Hughesy, the notorious bad boy of radio comedy, was less to her liking.

"He was really funny but a bit mean," she said.

Keep listening, as Keeley has her heart set on a radio career.

"I think it would be such a cool job," she said. "I'd definitely like to do it."

Buy Portia's pad ... for $60m

THEY only bought the property four years ago but Ellen DeGeneres and her Geelong-born wife, Portia de Rossi-DeGeneres, have decided to sell up. The couple is selling the massive Beverly Hills property for a whopping $60m.

Ellen and Portia bought the main 1115sqm property for $29 million in 2007 from Will & Grace co-creator Max Mutchnick.

The main three-bedroom home has a master suite, extensive dressing area, "private nudity-encouraging sunbathing terrace" and an under-swimming pool space with fitness centre.

Geelong's on a winner

AFTER wrapping Winners & Losers' first season, Paul Moore and Sarah Grace have been busy auditioning for TV ads and movies, but the real gossip is what's happening at their Geelong acting studio, Mooregrace.

The married couple will hold a workshop with Winners & Losers' stars Melissa Bergland (Jenny), Jack Pearson (Patrick), and Damien Bodie (Jonathan). Francis Green-slade (Mr Gross) will hold adults classes and Logie winner Libby Tanner (All Saints, Rescue: Special Ops) will go to the studio as well.

"It's really a great lineup of Australian talent. I'm sure our students will get a lot out of it," Paul said.
